Jewelry Tips for your Summer Vacation

Before you pack precious jewelry for the trip of a lifetime or bring out the sunscreen for a weekend get-away, there are a few things you should keep in mind to protect your precious gems and jewelry during your summer adventures.

- 1. Salt water and chlorine can be damaging! While using a hot tub or swimming pool, chlorine can damage and discolor metals such as gold and platinum and can slowly erode the finish and polish of gemstones. The cold temperature of the water in pools, oceans, lakes and rivers causes your finger size to shrink temporarily which may allow your ring to slip off your finger without your knowledge.
- 2. Don't lose your sparkle. Sun block or bug spray can form a film on your jewelry, making it appear dull and dingy, and get stuck in crevices of chains and prongs, making it hard to clean.
- 3. Keep it safe and sound. The only surefire way to guarantee not losing or damaging your jewelry this summer is to simply take it off and leave it at home, securely stored of course! Vacations are a great time to bring along fun, inexpensive jewelry to accessorize — like our sterling silver Kit Heath designs!

As always, it's good practice to bring your jewelry into The King's Jewelers for regular inspections and cleanings to prepare them for your summer activities and bring them back to their shining best afterwards. Cleaning and check ups are always complimentary! Safe travels, and happy summer!

Symbolic Uniqueness

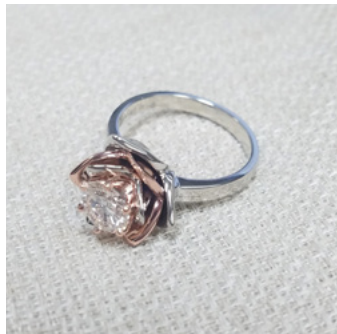

We had the privilege of creating this custom platinum and rose gold diamond flower ring for a special client. The ring has beautiful symbolism to her of new beginnings and a fresh start. We loved walking her through the design process and helping the ring of her dreams come true!
